COUNT I
NOKIA'S INFRINGEMENT OF U.S. PATENT NO. 7,392,287

8. Paragraphs 1-15 are incorporated herein by reference.

9. WRT is the lawful owner, by assignment, of the entire right, title and interest in United States Patent No. 7,392,287 (“the ’287 patent”), entitled “Method and Apparatus for Sharing Information Using a Handheld Device,” which was duly and legally issued on June 24, 2008 to inventor Raymond F. Ratcliff, III. A true and complete copy of the ’287 patent is attached hereto as Exhibit A.

10. The ’287 patent claims systems and methods for sending information to a data processing apparatus for identifying a document to share with a recipient.

11. Nokia makes and uses cellular phones and software to identify documents and items, including Nokia’s Point and Find mobile application (see <http://store.ovi.com/content/8758>). For example, Nokia’s Point and Find mobile application allows a user to capture an image of an item with their handheld device, which are then used for identification.

12. On information and belief, Nokia has been and now is directly infringing, and/or inducing infringement by others, and/or contributing to the infringement by others of the ’287 patent in this judicial district, and elsewhere in the United States. Infringements by Nokia include, without limitation, making, using, offering for sale, and/or selling within the United States, and/or importing into the United States, at least Nokia’s cellular phones capable of using Nokia’s Point and Find mobile application, infringing one or more claims of the ’287 patent. Nokia is thus liable for infringement of the ’287 patent pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 271(a), (b) & (c).

13. WRT has been damaged by Nokia's infringement of the '287 patent, has been irreparably harmed by that infringement, and will suffer additional damages and irreparable harm unless this Court enjoins Nokia from further infringement.

COUNT II
RICOH'S INFRINGEMENT OF U.S. PATENT NO. 7,392,287

14. Paragraphs 1-15 are incorporated herein by reference.

15. WRT is the lawful owner, by assignment, of the entire right, title and interest in United States Patent No. 7,392,287 ("the '287 patent"), entitled "Method and Apparatus for Sharing Information Using a Handheld Device," which was duly and legally issued on June 24, 2008 to inventor Raymond F. Ratcliff, III. A true and complete copy of the '287 patent is attached hereto as Exhibit A.

16. The '287 patent claims systems and methods for sending information to a data processing apparatus for identifying a document to share with a recipient.

17. Ricoh makes and uses software to identify documents and items, including mobile applications for the iPhone, such as French Rev and DriveTube (see <http://beta.rii.ricoh.com/betalabs/content/french-rev-iphone-app-0>, and <http://beta.rii.ricoh.com/betalabs/content/drivetube-iphone-application>). For example, Ricoh's mobile applications for the iPhone allow a user to capture an image of an item with their handheld device, which are then used for identification.

18. On information and belief, Ricoh has been and now is directly infringing, and/or inducing infringement by others, and/or contributing to the infringement by others of the '287 patent in this judicial district, and elsewhere in the United States. Infringements by Ricoh include, without limitation, making, using, offering for sale, and/or selling within the United States, and/or importing into the United States, at least mobile application for the iPhone, infringing one or more claims of the '287 patent. Ricoh is thus liable for infringement of the '287 patent pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 271(a), (b) & (c).

19. WRT has been damaged by Ricoh's infringement of the '287 patent, has been irreparably harmed by that infringement, and will suffer additional damages and irreparable harm unless this Court enjoins Ricoh from further infringement.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff respectfully requests that this Court enter:

1. A judgment in favor of Plaintiff that Defendants have infringed, directly, jointly, and/or indirectly, by way of inducing and/or contributing to the infringement of the '287 Patent;
2. A permanent injunction enjoining Defendants and their officers, directors, agents, servants, affiliates, employees, divisions, branches, subsidiaries, parents, and all others acting in active concert therewith from infringement, inducing the infringement of, or contributing to the infringement of the '287 Patent;
3. A judgment and order requiring Defendants to pay Plaintiff its damages, costs, expenses, and prejudgment and post-judgment interest for Defendants' infringement of the '287 Patent as provided under 35 U.S.C. § 284;
4. A judgment and order finding that this is an exceptional case within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. § 285 and awarding to Plaintiff its reasonable attorneys' fees; and
5. Any and all other relief to which Plaintiff may show itself to be entitled.

JURY DEMAND

WRT, under Rule 38 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, requests a trial by jury of any issues so triable by right.

Dated: September 14, 2010

Respectfully submitted,
